Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer mage file is deemed objectionable because it promotes and supports the exploitation of young persons for sexual purposes.

The file consists of a video clip depicting a man involving a young teenage girl in sexual activity. The material appears to be from a commercial website and is intended for the arousal of those with a sexual interest in young people. The availability of the video clip encourages this sexual interest and perpetuates the belief that underage girls may be used for adult sexual gratification.

The classification of this publication interferes with the right to freedom of expression set out in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990. However, this is an outcome that is consistent with Parliament's intention and is a reasonable limitation on the freedom of expression. The classification reflects the concern of a free and democratic society to protect its young and vulnerable members from sexual exploitation.
